

14th Annual WATCH Conference and Family Retreat
“Strictly Home-made”
by Homeschool Families
August 8th & 9th 2008

This is an opportunity for you to sell your (or your children’s) home-made items to hundreds of other homeschool families. Your items will be beautifully and professionally displayed with other homemade items in a “Strictly Homemade” store area. This area is specifically designed and advertised as a place to visit and support fellow homeschool families. You must either be involved in homeschooling, have been homeschooled or plan on homeschooling your children to qualify for this venue.

Additional Qualifications to Participate:

- Must have items approved
- Submit a picture of your items
- E-mail us an idea of the types of items you plan to make and bring.
- Must be a paid attendee of the 2-day conference

To start the participation process you will need to indicate your interest in an email to: info@watchhome.org briefly describing your home-made items. If we feel it is a fit for our venue we will email you an application form.

We will make sure there is a balanced exhibition of businesses. Sign up early to hold your place in the “Strictly Home-made” store.

Instructions:

- Each item must be clearly tagged with your assigned number & price
- Everything must be delivered to one of the approved volunteers before Thursday August 7th.
- You must fill out the inventory sheet provided once you are approved.
- Saturday at 5:30 you may pick up your unsold items, nothing will be left behind.
- Each item must be brand new and made by someone in your personal family.

Cost:

- $10.00 per family
- 15% of sale price for items sold
- A check will be sent to you within a week of the conference for the 15% commission to support WATCH
